

10 NO-FAIL PBL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE IN 20 MINUTES OR LESS

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING
NETWORK

10 No-Fail PBL Steps You Can Take in 20 Minutes or Less

This list contains small steps you can take in a short period of time to gain momentum on your PBL unit. If you find yourself with 5, 10, or 20 minutes in between other tasks, tackle one of these steps. Take notes at the bottom, check off the steps you've completed, and schedule time to do the work that will take a little longer.

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 Select standards and learning goals for your unit | List 3-5 routines, skills, or mindsets you need to teach to have a PBL-ready classroom culture |
| 2 Pick a topic for your PBL unit | Set a date for your final presentation |
| 3 Call an expert or community member to talk about your topic | Set a date to launch your unit |
| 4 Brainstorm 3-5 product ideas | Invite audience members to your students' final presentation |
| 5 List 3-5 real-world problems your community faces | Run your idea(s) past some colleagues or students |

Notes:
